WHAT'S NEW?

In the revised class we have added more demonstration and hands-on exercises to show ACE's tools and utilities that reviewers can use to help them review and approve an ACE estimate.

- See how the Session Analyzer can help ensure that the session was implemented with best practices.
- See how the Review Tags Pane provides a mechanism to track workflow updates in a session.
- Observe the Review Log to see how analyst document changes made to a session over time.
- See how various Documentation Reports can help a review see how a session is documented.
- Use the Traceback Mode to understand the logic of a session and the links between various rows in the session.
- View the Drivers Pane to see what rows in the session are influence a key row of interest in the session.
- Work with the Visualization Pane to understand the data entry for the method or uncertainty input.
- Generate various results, reports, and charts to understand the output of a session.

Once completing the course you'll be able to confidently review any ACE session.

New Online Help Article: Copy/Pasting with Indenture

Do you sometimes have trouble with copying and pasting rows with Indenture in ACE? There are many nuances to ACE's copy/paste behavior. Consult this article for guidance and tips on how to efficiently add rows in different situations to your estimate without effecting your indenture structure.

With the evolution of ACEIT, the integrity of the WBS structure has improved. The Insert Multiple Rows dialog allows you to copy/paste data which has WBS/CES Indenture validated before application. In this article we walk you through each feature so that you can quickly build your Session.
